CLOSING

Staring into the serene landscape of the park, hearing the chatter and din from the crowded city, sensing the movements of the outside world; glancing out of a classroom window, a dreamer, a scholar, a Barringer High School student, envisions and awaits release into the real world.

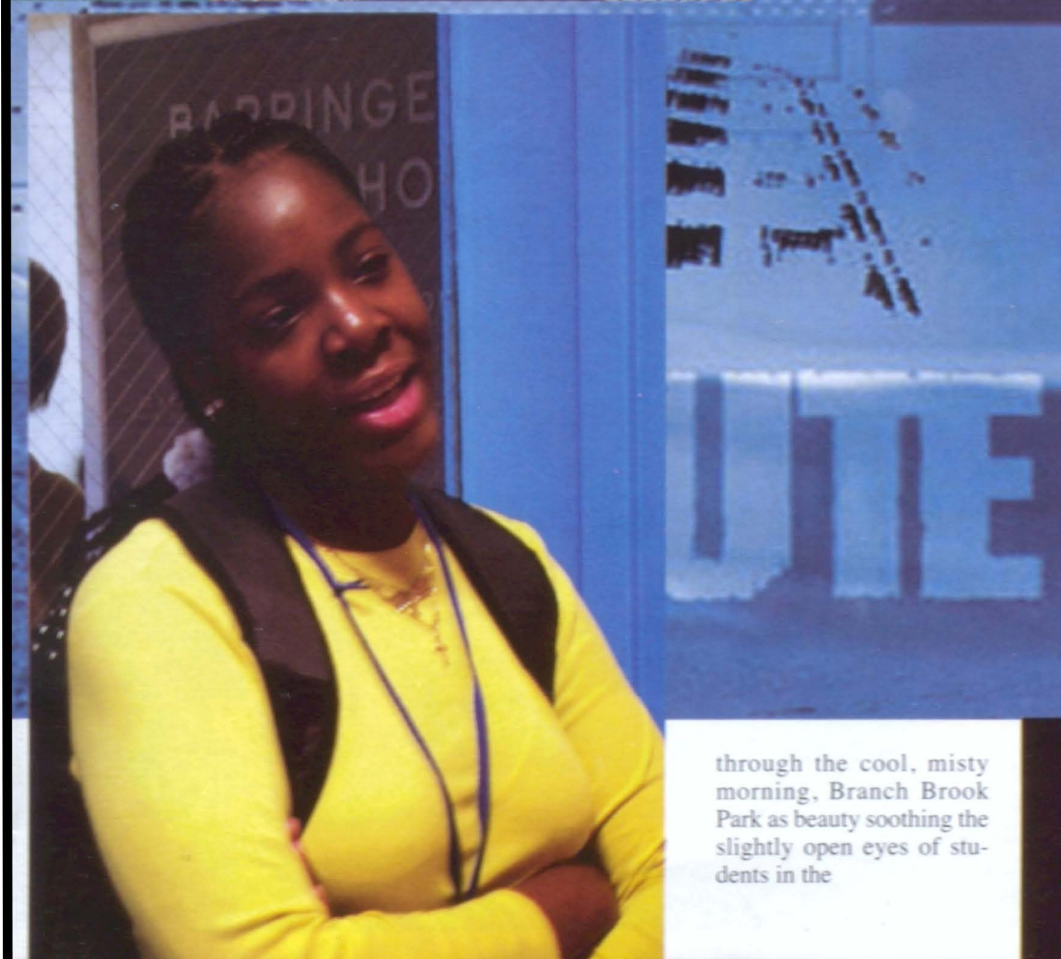

Hidden in a patch of green laced with colorful flowers, lies a lake, each current cutting school above. Every morning, we drag out tired bodies to class sometimes ignoring that nature too is tired from its long rest. The park is part of our environment, nature occurring outside, and our own human nature happening inside Barringer High School. Together, nature and we change and live emerging into a new person. Like leaves in the fall, we change a little, vividly showing our growth or knowledge, our beauty discovered by an onlooker. We resemble cherry blossoms for our beauty attracts interest and remain. In the hearts and photos of spectators. Similarly, like the cherry blossoms in the park, we will disappear, yet we will never be forgotten.

Our first home, where our hearts lie is the grand city of Newark. Whether born, raised, or a recent addition to this city, we will always remember Newark. The sounds and light of the big city where we lived, learned, and loved these past years will echo and illumine our minds. Its diversity and culture will remind us of how different and unique we all are. From downtown to Penn Station to Park Ave. to our neighborhoods, the 2002 class legacy will travel, extending into our future world. Those who knew us, will see us triumph.

eagerly spreading the good news around Newark. From Newark, an urban community like any other, through struggle and great effort, rose a class of achievers, like no other.

Events in the outside world have greatly affected the lives of the Blue Bear graduating class. Memorable feats, tragedies, and shocking news, have made these four years a most unforgettable experience. Domestic and foreign issues and leaders have changed our future. By getting involved in school and community affairs, we have remained close and dared to revolutionize the outside world. The occurrences during these four years have made the world a very different place. As future leaders, we have a great task on our hands.

Surviving and learning in this environment has made us stronger and wiser towards life's imminent challenges and surprising twists. Through our urban surroundings and background, we have learned to deal with pressure, pain, and other problems. Reputation and public opinion made us doubt sometimes, but we remained true to ourselves. We trusted our instincts, hunches, and feelings in handling certain situations, and succeeded. Our most important accomplishment was our trust in ourselves.

As the pendulum swings, the day of our triumph and rebirth nears, yet each night dies in mixed sentiments. This phase of our transition is at its end. Our common sense tells us to celebrate and be merry, for soon we will begin a new life; yet, our spirit weeps, for we leave behind adolescence and its joys. These only remain memories, of a past filled with changes, tough lessons, and victories that molded us into future successes.

us, as we tried to impress our peers. Sometimes, a misguided attempt for popularity made us appear as a jester in the public eye. We have made serious mistakes that we will regret. Even though these mistakes have cost us dearly, they have made us more aware of others and ourselves. Through our errors, we learned to make the right decisions.

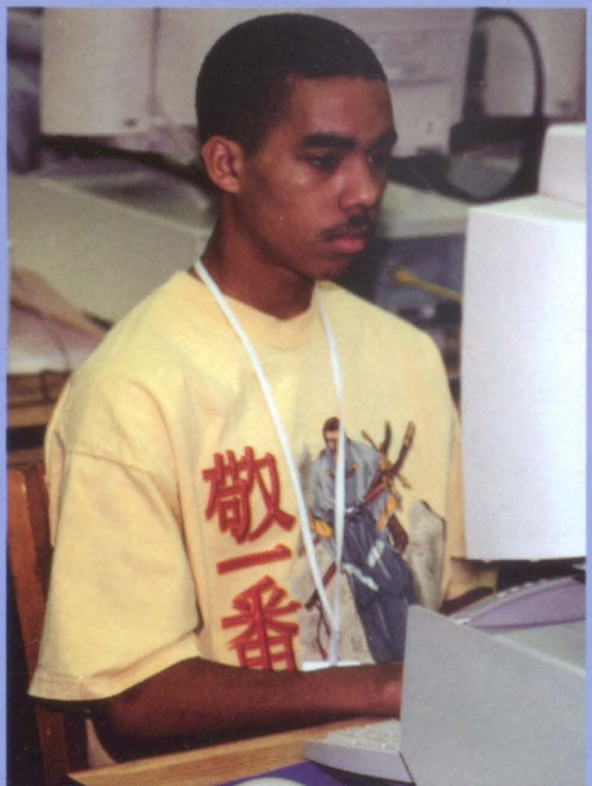

Changes in others and ourselves confused us during adolescence. Others, like ourselves were going through the same physical, emotional, and mental changes we were. Each change made us different and unique, an individual, something we as children were not before. We felt more distant and apart from our friends, fearing they would not understand.

When we entered high school together, as freshmen, our fear of being a new comer united us together once more. It was high school and its dangers of being a freshman, which allowed us to bond and develop, close friendships. Together, as the class of 2002 we tackled our problems and found comfort with our new environment and its changes. Each member a unique character, together striving towards one goal: GRADUATION!

Besides learning lessons from a book, educator, or friend, experience has been our greatest teacher. Only by involvement in certain situations, can one truly learn and change themselves. By confronting our obstacles and problems, we define our personality and character. By tackling individual issues, we grow and can move on to challenge critical issues. Experience has taught us tough lessons about love, life, and happiness. Often these lessons lead to an epiphany, followed by an individual change. These four years have dramatically changed us from reckless youth to responsible young adults.

These four years have been marked with tears and laughs, triumphs and falls, and fear and courage. Valor separates this class from the other. Together, we rose to the challenge of Barringer High School. When troubled by our individual problems, we found support in our class. Our school's reputation haunted us, as public opinion doubted our strength and mocked our attempts at glory. Yet, we waved our blue and white colors of hope and prevailed. We stirred controversy and disbelief among those unbelievers, and proved them wrong. To the unbelievers: we have destroyed every obstacle, crushed any opposition, and conquered each fear.

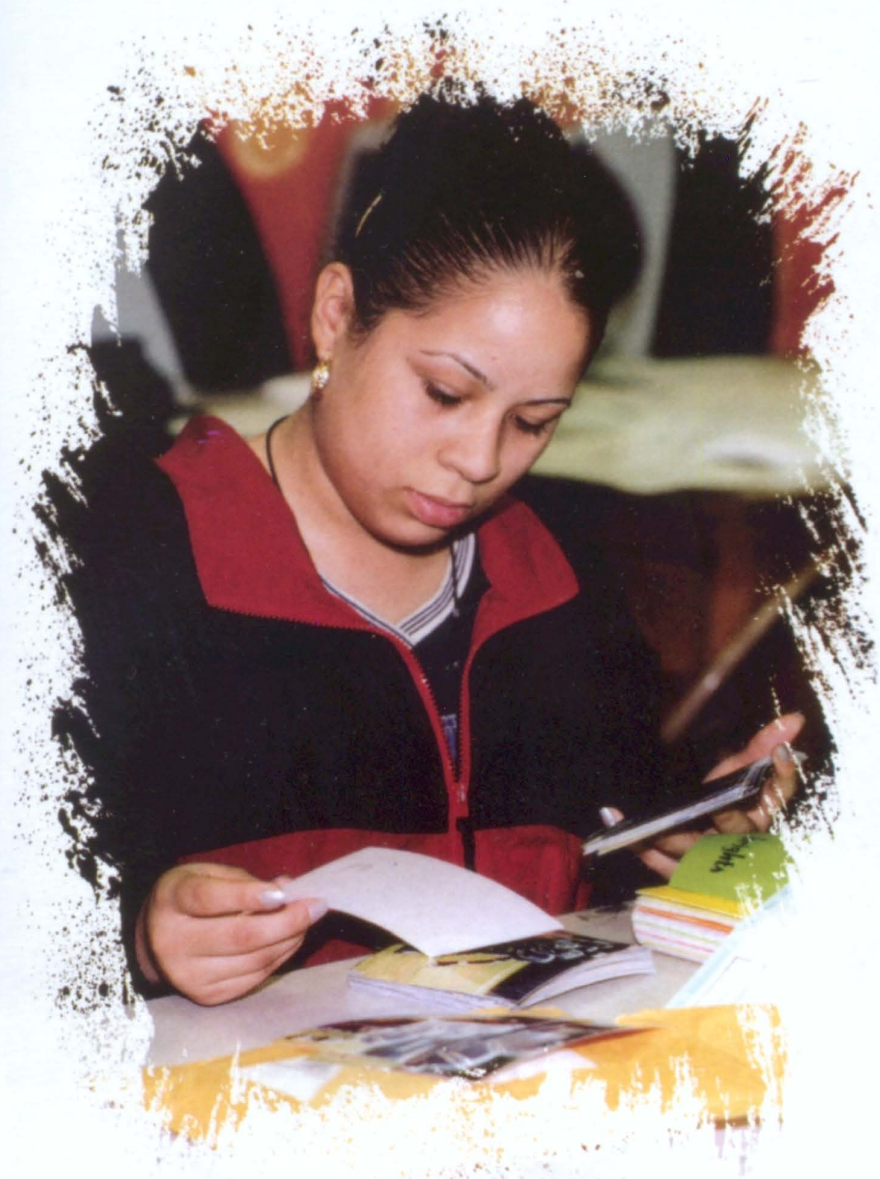

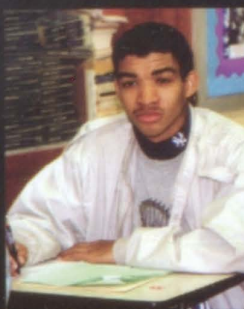

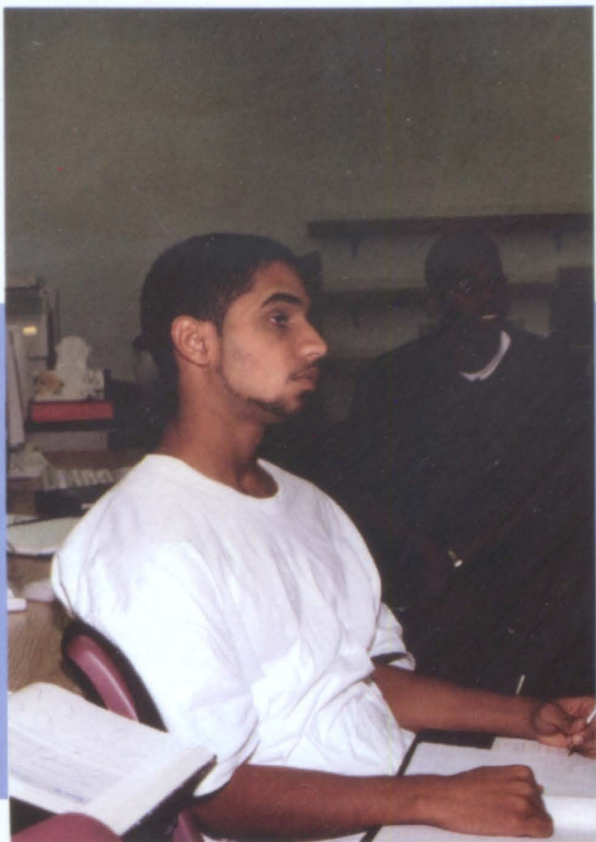

Among our individual successes, the class of 2002 has achieved three major victories. Finding who we are and establishing an identity was our first victory. Another victory was bonding with strangers, all working toward a common cause. Our final victory in high school is to graduate and start our journey of life.

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

The sun was slowly setting as luxurious cars swiftly made their way through the crowded parking lot at The Vesuvius Restaurant on the night of May 28, 2001. The long awaited night was finally here, "The Junior Prom" ... the time of reminiscing about the past, living the present and planning the future.

The official gathering of the juniors. An event that no one will ever forget. With strenuous work, long hours, and difficult decisions, the Junior Class Committee, made it "the most memorable night in all their high school years".

Despite the difficulties and hardships the juniors faced throughout the year, everyone's thoughts were built together in an effort for peace. As tears of happiness and sorrow flooded the dance floor, couples stretched their arms out and glided their feet to the tunes of the millennium. The dazzling beauties and their dates sprang to the scene becoming part of a "Kodak" moment to be treasured forever.

SENIOR PROM

A TREASURED NIGHT

We all wait for that one special night that marks the turning point in the lives of one class: the seniors. Together we faced adolescence struggles and on this evening, they celebrate their accomplishments. A captivating night symbolizes the beginning of the Senior Prom, as we dance away frozen in time.

In comparison to Hollywood on Oscar night, the Prom had its share of class and fancy. Outside the West Orange Manor, luxurious sedans and stretch limousines arrived at around 6:30 pm. Beautifully dressed young women entered with their handsome dates, as the event began. Inside, friends remembered old times and spoke of the future. We realized that our lives were changing and reminisced about precious memories. We cried, we laugh, we remembered about our teenage years and foolish mistakes. Although we are leaving Barringer, the prom became our most unforgettable experience.

The star lit sky, the sparkling rhinestones on dresses, the slow music, and quiet conversation made the prom a peaceful, yet glamorous evening. From all angles, the prom was the most extravagant and spectacular night of our teenage lives

What is success?

Ralph Waldo Emerson described success as:

“To laugh often and much; To win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; To earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; To appreciate beauty; To leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; To know even one life breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded.”

To the graduating class of 2002 I wish you success. I know you will make the world a better place.

SENIOR CLASS COMMITTEE

The Senior Class Committee provides seniors with an opportunity to have a voice in the many decisions the class advisor encounters. Over the course of the years, the committee plans fundraisers such as the Faculty vs. Students basketball games, Photo Fantasies, Calendar contests, fruit and bake sales to raise money for all senior class activities. This money finances the Senior Class Trip, the Prom, and other expenses. A small group of students, Senior Class Committee represents the entire senior class headed by President Javier Osorio. The Senior Class Committee is in charge of all senior dues, events, fundraisers, and activities. Throughout the year, members work to make senior year both enjoyable and memorable for their fellow classmates. Their success is accredited to the tireless efforts of class advisor, Mr. Wilson Martinez.

JUNIOR CLASS COMMITTEE

The Junior Class Committee consists of eleventh grade volunteers who help make decisions pertaining to their class. They plan fundraising activities that will benefit next year's class trip and graduation. Advisors for this club are Ms. Jackie Rocker-Brown and Ms. Carolyn Brady.

ATHENAEUM YEARBOOK

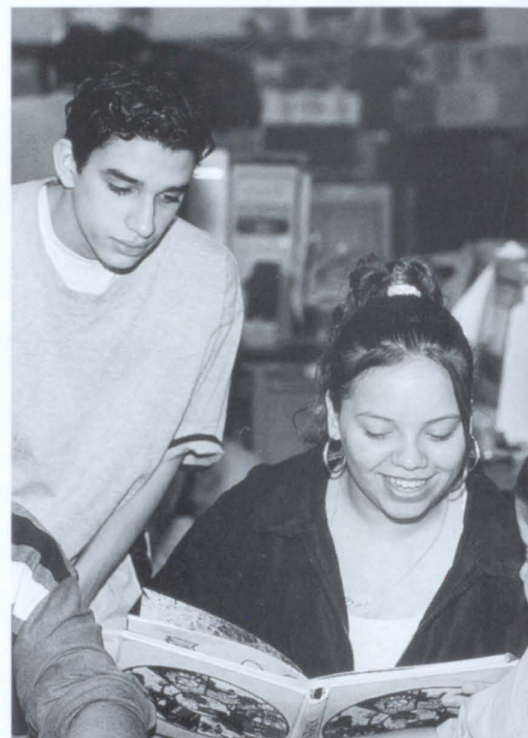

The Athenaeum Yearbook is a collection of cherished memories and precious moments of the senior class. This year's staff devoted themselves entirely to capturing the past by combining the right images with the most creative writing. Each snapshot, layout, caption, and entry embodies the spirit of this staff and senior class. The staff worked diligently together to create a memorable book that graduates will treasure for a lifetime. As part of the Athenaeum staff, these dedicated students spent long hours, after school everyday to met their deadlines. Staff members who were fellow seniors united to create a stunning final success as departing Barringer students. The creation of the book itself has been an unforgettable experience for these seniors. The staff is grateful for the efforts and support of Advisor Sal DiGerlando, and Technical Advisors, Jose Soto, and Johann Sanchez.

Through journalism the media influences the "compact majority" and the "controlling minority." Tackling great issues, exposing controversy, and articulating intellectual opinions, the Acropolis News staff truly understands and upholds the ideals of this field. We execute our duties as reporters with utmost integrity and display proficiency in our articles, and editorials. We try to satisfy public opinion and allow our readers to view the world from different perspectives. Our staff understands their responsibility of educating the public by uncovering "both sides to every story." We value honesty and are just and fair in our coverage of significant event and activities. Our experiences as students and training as reporters, helps us collaborate in five impacting issues that deliver quality reading to our public. The Acropolis News Staff appreciates the hard work, and devotion of Advisor Sal DiGerlando for inspiring us to become better students, leaders, and individuals.

Ana G. Perez peers over the top of an Acropolis Newspaper as Ashton Merritt, Rema Nazuri, and Milton Duran discuss text to be used on the computer.

COMPUTER GRAPHICS

Computer technology is emerging as the popular research field of the twentieth century. Whenever we turn on the television, we are bombarded with images that computers have shaped. Computer graphics is a club advised by Mr. Sal DiGerlando, for students who have an interest in using the computer as design tool. The members are trained to generate graphics, and use software to create professional publications.

ASPIRA LEADERSHIP CLUB

The ASPIRA Association, Inc. is the only national nonprofit organization devoted solely to the education and leadership development of Puerto Rican and other Latino youth. Throughout school-based and city-wide Leadership clubs, students learn the ASPIRA "process of awareness, analysis, and action." The purpose of the ASPIRA Leadership Club is to provide a forum for students to become aware of their culture and community while developing their leadership and advancing academically. Through the Leadership Club, students have an opportunity to express their views and appreciate the opinions of their peers. Additionally, each club plans and implements at least one community service project that allows them to give back to the community. Participating in the ASPIRA Leadership Club gave these students the encouragement and mentoring that inspired them to strive toward the highest possible levels of education, leadership, and commitment to their community.

Baseball

"let's ROCK"

Barringer's baseball team has always brought pride to our school. This year our team was ambitious enough to practice each day with the determination to attain the state championship. However, they won the city championship, a victory of its own.

The squad was characterized by their speed and batting skills. While it was not always easy, with some patience the team was able to overcome injuries and other obstacles. The Blue Bear spirit lives on in each and every one of our team members.

The baseball team, a dedicated squad, made use of a powerful pitching staff and a solid infield and outfield. Throughout the season, the team always displayed a positive attitude. Dedication and hard work were the seeds of their triumph.

Although Tennis is a great sport, it is not as popular at Barringer, and thus, remains in the quiet. However, this does not discourage our Tennis players. To the contrary, it makes them try harder to be victorious in every game.

Each individual player worked to improve their skills and their team. Every player demonstrated love for the game by devoting time to learning new skills and techniques. These Barringer athletes played as a unit, and always gave their best effort to win matches.

THE DAY AMERICA WAS CHANGE FOREVER. . .
A TRIBUTE TO THOSE WHO LOST THEIR LOVE ONES.

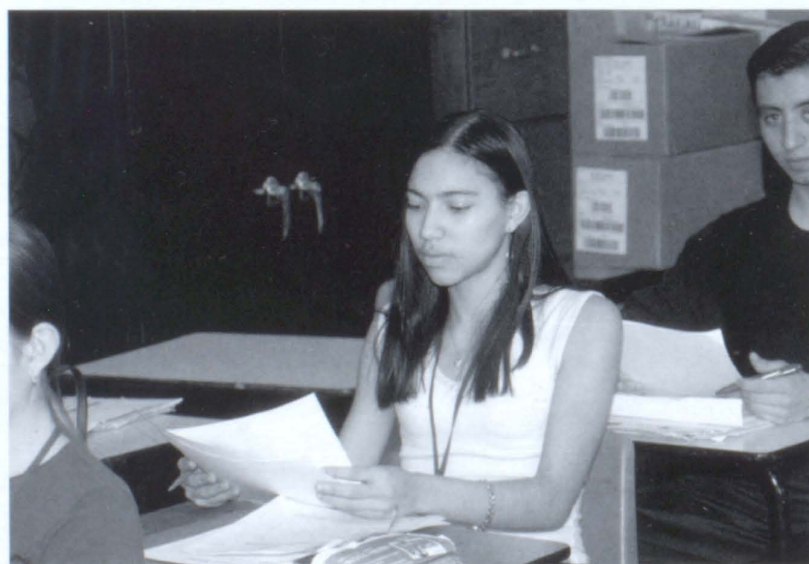

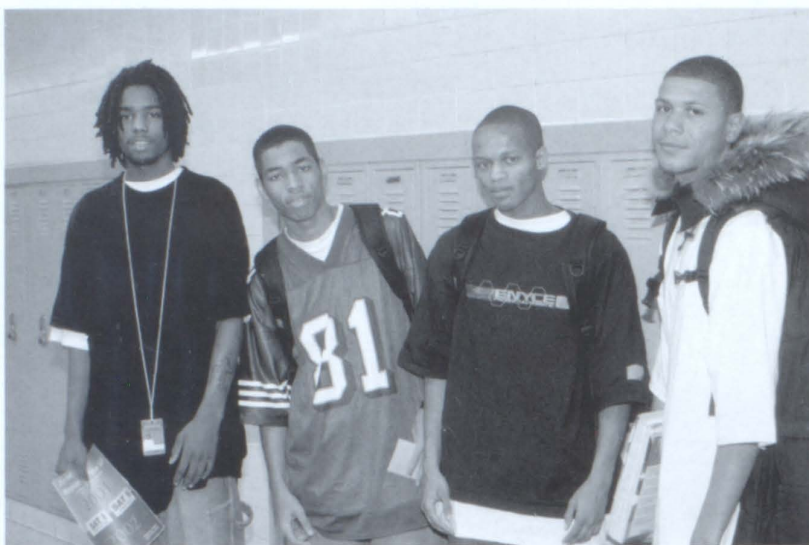

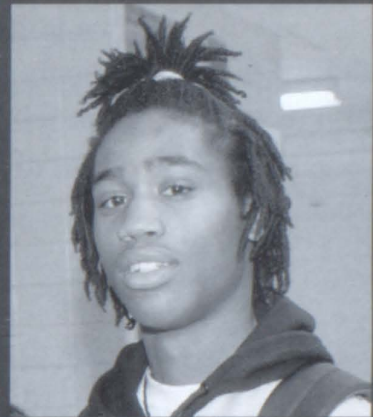

The world changed on Tuesday, September 11th 2001 when terrorists hijacked four commercial airliners, piloting one into the Pentagon, and two more into the World Trade Center's Twin Towers.

The fourth plane crashes in Pennsylvania. This heinous act brought death and destruction to thousands of Americans, while also reviving the common man's fear of Terrorism. This page is dedicated to those innocent victims lost in the September 11 attack, and all the men and women who fight to make the free world safe for everyone. Their courage and actions stand tall as a true monument to all those that believe in universal freedom.

time to represent

Blue Pride

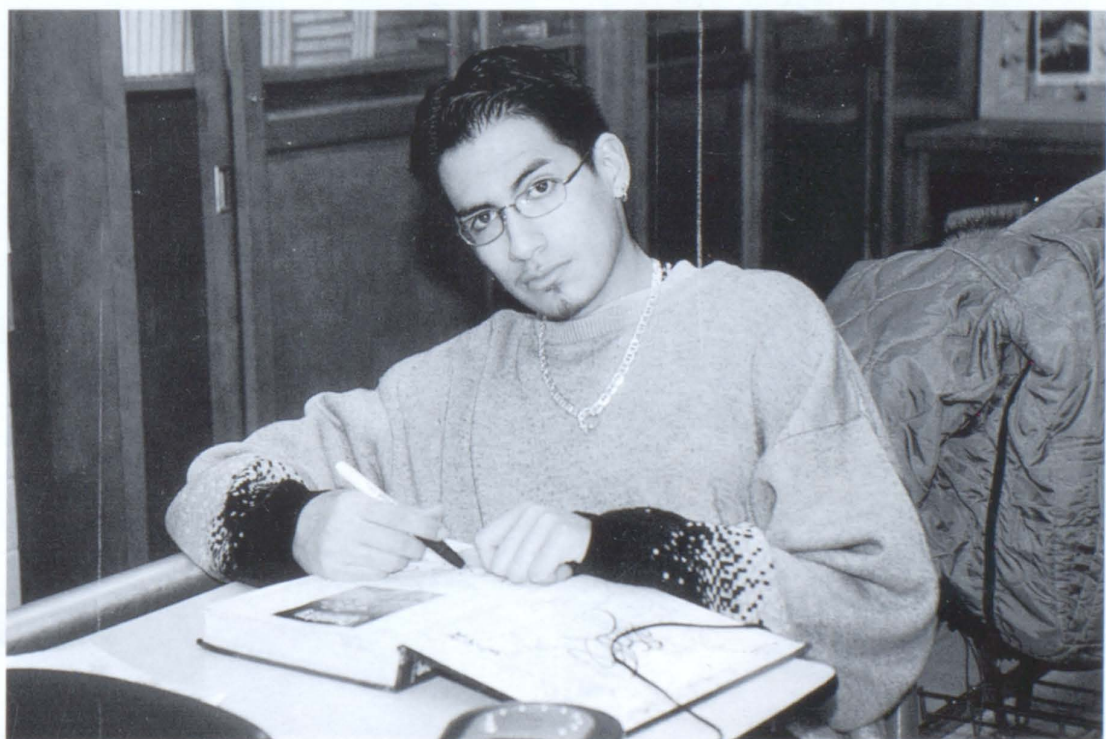

In our final thoughts, we not only remember our struggles, but our teachers, mentors, and coaches who supported and helped us reach this mark. Captivating our imaginations, and satisfying our thirst for knowledge, teachers inspired us to dream about a future. Seeing the world through the eyes of our mentors, we prepared for the outside and adopted a philosophy to live by. Sport and activity coaches motivated us to put our hearts into the game of life and they also toughened us for future battles.

Looking back at these four years, we picture: rushing to class at Broad and Market; sitting for a breather in the main office; the sight of the crowded cafeteria setting; the Barringer class rank and social standings always shaken by loose lips and the news heard in the grapevine; administrators barking orders, and security guards ensuring our safety and peace. The Barringer world is a paradox of the real world; the only difference is that in this environment teenagers are the ones who are identity searching.

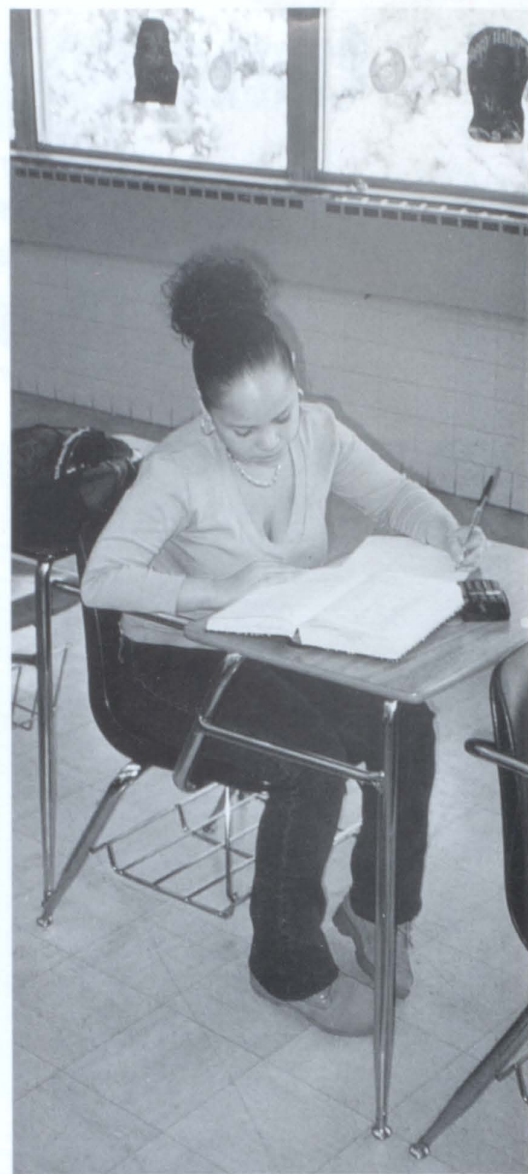

Lift our voices, express our feelings, and change the old world view: the role of a Barringer scholar. We shall preserve and introduce new ideas, breaking the old boundaries set by past generations.

FUTURE

time to represent Blue Pride

In numbers, we demonstrate our Blue Pride and alter the old-world ideals into new principles and practices.

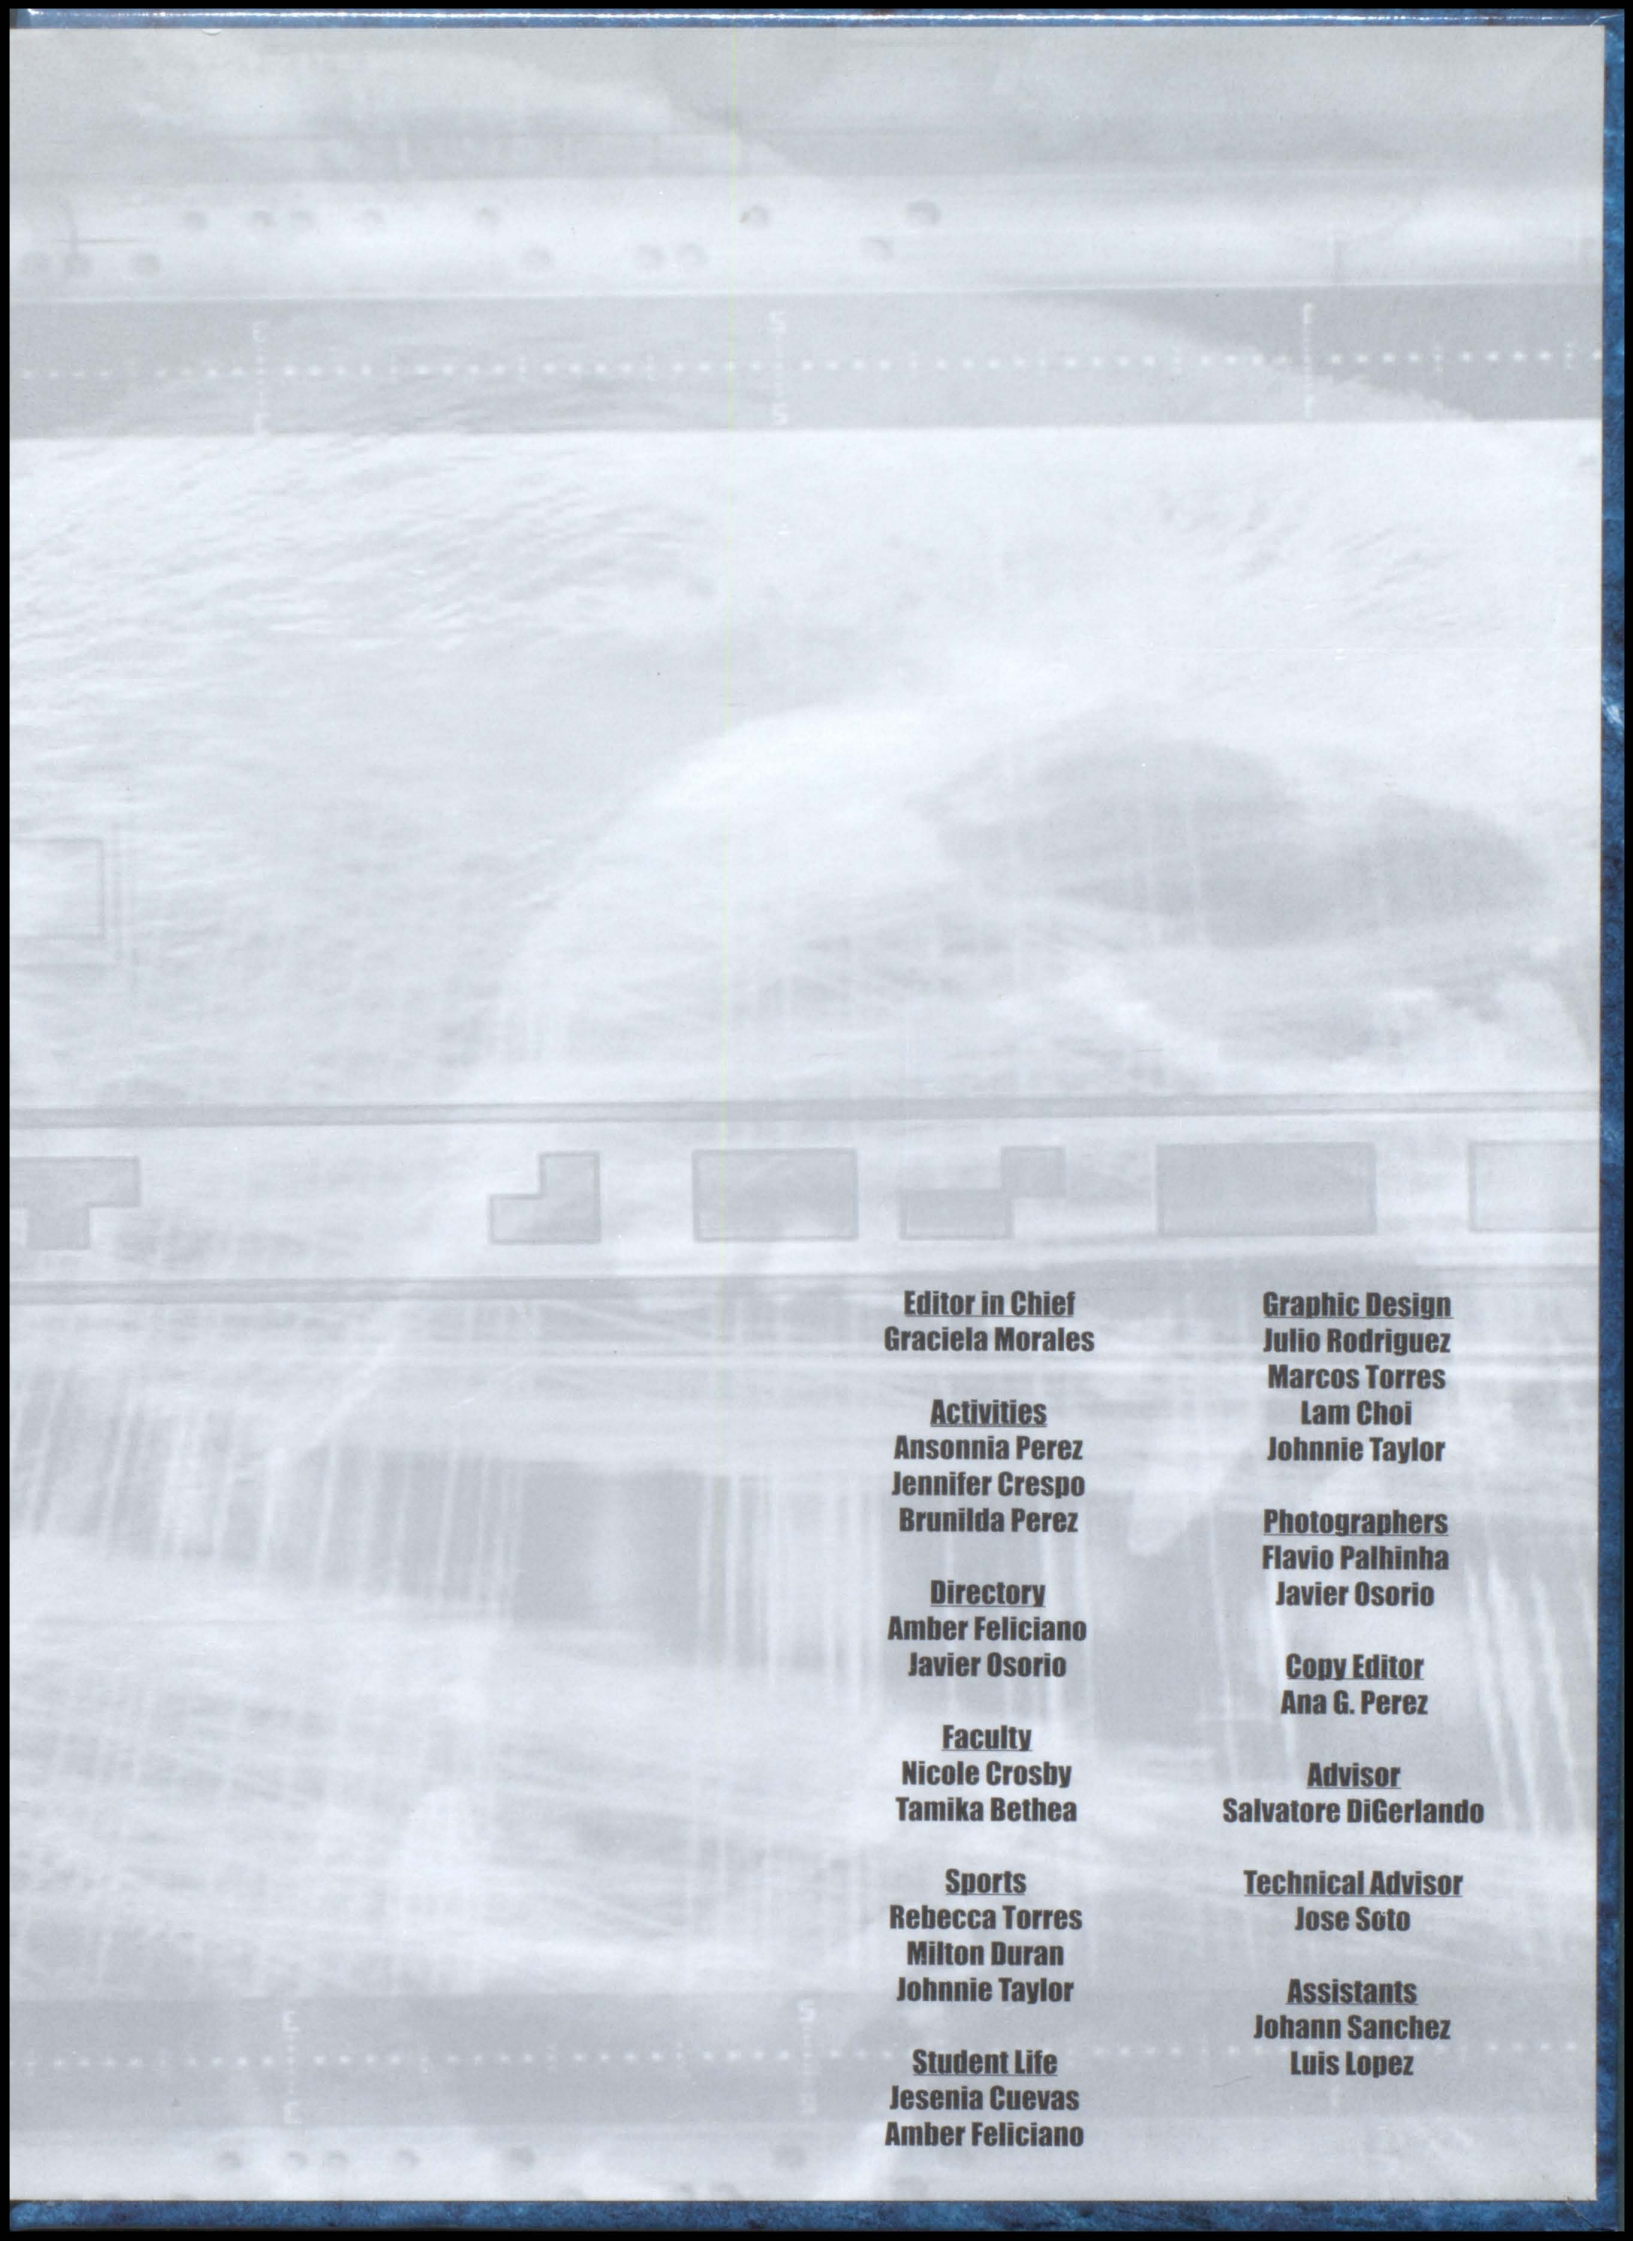

The future literally lies in our hands. We shall now embark on the journey of life. As we enter an unfamiliar environment, and abandon old fears, we prepare ourselves to overcome the long road ahead of us.

Armed with new knowledge, a sense of self, and an appreciation for humanity, we anxiously await our entrance into a new life and future world. Yet, we shall never forget the Barringer Blue Pride and so break into it with a powerful spirit! Wherever the journey of life take us, the spirit of the Barringer Blue Bear lies within us, reminding us to never quit or lose hope.

It is time to represent the Blue Pride, and therefore unleash the power of our education. But let us not forget the past, which is a precious treasure, always reminding us of our joys, triumphs, and struggles experienced on our quest for an understanding of ourselves and assertion of future endeavors ...
